Convict Farm for Youthful Felous. Austin, January 31.—The bill for the establishment of a convict farm for youthful felous that passed the Senate to-day, is practically the same as the bill introduced by Mr. Gibbs in the Senate of the Eighteenth legislature, and which passed that body. Mr. Woods, of Lavaca, fathered the measure. ure that went through to-day. It makes an appropriation of $75,000, and is generally commended as a wholesome movement.

We copy the above from the Galveston News. We suppose no doubt the proposed measure will become a law. Apropos, why would not San Marcos be a suitable location for the proposed institution? It was once proposed to locate a branch of the State penitentiary at the head of our river. It was a monstrous idea, and the FREE PRESS opposed it with all its might. But the institution now proposed is a very different thing, though we would not want it at the head of the river. The bottom on the other side and below would furnish the necessary grounds and other facilities. We commend the subject to the favorable consideration of our representatives in the Legislature, and suggest that our influential citizens take action in the same direc-
